Clinical Trials in Psychedelic Research: Implications for the Alleviation of End-of-Life Existential Distress and the Study of Religious Experience

Anthony P. Bossis
Clinical Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at NYU School of Medicine and Adjunct Professor of Classics and Religious Studies at the University of Ottawa

This presentation will review the history and scientific findings from psychedelic research in end-of-life and palliative care and provide an overview of a soon-to-be-published study on the administration of psilocybin to religious leaders.
